

The Sheriff

Gets His

Man

by Earl Adair
Stowe Vt. May 1
Age 8

Chapters

Pages<sup>2</sup>

I Escape

3

II A Plan

5

III Success

6

I Escape

Our story opens
in a town out west.

Bang! Bang! Bang!
Help! "Bill just
got away," yelled
some one.

"Who did you say?"
asked a townsman.

"Bill Tomas," answered
a dupity. "After him a boys," yelled the sheriff.

(Later) "It's no use now,"
said the sheriff sadly.

14 "He's out of town
by now," said one of the dupity's.

(next day)

"So you let him go
again," said Judge Bank
disaustingly.

"I'm going to get mad
one of these days and
take that badge away
from you."

Bang! Bang!
Bang!

"It's him again," yelled
one of the townsmen.
"It's too late, too," sighed
the sheriff

II A Plan

"This has gotta stop,"
said the sheriff to his men.
"And I got a plan already."
"This is what we'll do."

(next)

Bang! Bang! Bang!
"Here he comes again," yelled someone

<sup>b</sup> "Where's the sheriff,
yelled another.

III Success

"Well, there he goes right past
hangmans tree."

"Ugh" gasped Bill
as a rope hurled

around his neck.

Everything was quite.

Then the sheriff
was seen leaping

from the tree. 3

And after arresting Judge Banks for being Bills <sup>ist</sup> assant.

He left a crook
called Bill Thomas hanging.

The End.